May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

THE late atrocious Attempt on the Life of our beloved Sovereign, while it has excited a moſt ſerious Alarm in the Breaſt of every loyal Subject, has, in its moſt providential Defeat, bound us in Gratitude to Almighty God for this ſtriking Inſtance of his Mercy in ſparing to theſe Kingdoms a Life ſo eminently precious, not alone to Britons, but eſſential in the preſent Juncture of Affairs, to the great Intereſts of Europe:—we may add to the Happineſs of the human Race.

That this daring Act of Wickedneſs could have proceeded only from the Hand of Frenzy we have not a Shadow of Doubt; for we are firmly convinced there are none who poſſeſs the Benefit of Reaſon to whom the exalted Virtue of your Majeſty's Character does not appear as a Shield of Protection guarding your ſacred Perſon againſt any Aſſault which could be meditated by Treaſon or by Malice. But ſafe as we truſt the Royal Perſon ſhall ever be under the Protection of Heaven from all ſuch Attempts, we tremble under the Senſe of the Precarioufneſs of thoſe Bleſſings of which we have ſo narrowly eſcaped the total Privation: and while we earneſtly entreat our gracious Sovereign to be doubly careful of a Life, of which the Value to his People is beyond all Eſtimate, we ſhall continue to put up our ardent Prayers to Heaven to watch over your ſacred Head, and long preſerve to theſe Kingdoms the multiplied Bleſſings we derive from your paternal Care and Affection.

We feel the utmoſt Gratitude and Thankfulneſs for the remarkable Interpoſition of the Divine Providence, ſo eminently manifeſted on this Occaſion, in ſaving your Majeſty from ſo great and imminent a Danger; and do in the moſt dutiful and affectionate Manner congratulate your Majeſty, and the whole of theſe Kingdoms upon ſo providential and momentous a Deliverance to yourſelf, to your Royal Family, and to your faithful People.

That Almighty God may long continue to protect and preſerve your Majeſty's precious and invaluable Life as a laſting Bleſſing to your Royal Family, and all your faithful Subjects; and that your Majeſty may long, very long, reign over a People deeply ſenſible of the many ſignal Advantages and Bleſſings which they enjoy under your Majeſty's mild and auſpicious Government, are the daily and ardent Prayers of,

It is with peculiar Horror and Indignation that we view the Repetition of ſo atrocious and treaſonable a Deſign, in Times like the preſent, when it may be difficult to diſcriminate between the Influence of thoſe pernicious Principles and Doctrines that are, unhappily, gone forth into the World, upon a weak and wicked Imagination, and that real Alienation of Reaſon which we, as yet however, conſole our-ſelves with hoping, could alone have given Birth to ſo deſperate, ſo execrable an Intention.

Sire, had the Aſſaſſin's Arm been permitted to reach your Majeſty, the ſtill deeper Wound had been inflicted upon your People, who, impreſſed with a juſt Senſe of the Benefits indulged to theſe Kingdoms in the long Extenſion of your Majeſty's mild and paternal Reign, bend with heartfelt Gratitude to that Good Providence whoſe Guardian Care, ever vouchſafed to beneficent and pious Princes, has deigned to avert a Calamity that, in the preſent momentous Criſis, had been equally dangerous to their Intereſts and dreadful to their Feelings.

With theſe Impreſſions, we cannot find Terms ſufficiently ſtrong to expreſs our affectionate Reſpect and Duty to your Majeſty, and our humble Prayers that Almighty God will continue to you every Protection and Happineſs that can be wiſhed by a grateful People to their King and to their Father.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Inhabitants of the Town of Birmingham, approach your Majeſty with the warmeſt Sentiments of Attachment to your Majeſty's Perſon and Government.

In the whole Courſe of your Majeſty's Reign, your Subjects have experienced every Bleſſing which impartial Juſtice and Affection could diſpenſe; and we therefore grieve to think that any Mind could

To the KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty.

The humble Addreſs of the Chancellor, Maſters, and Scholars of the Univerſity of Cambridge.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Chancellor, Maſters, and Scholars, of the Univerſity of Cambridge, humbly beg Leave to expreſs our Grief and Indignation at the late wicked and deſperate Attack upon your Majeſty's Royal Perſon; on the providential Failure of which, not only theſe Kingdoms, but the whole civilized and Chriſtian World, will have ſo much Reaſon to rejoice.

There has not been a Moment's Interval, ſince your Majeſty firſt ſwayed the Britiſh Sceptre, in which the Safety of your ſacred Life and Perſon, has not been inſeparably connected with the Happineſs and Intereſts of your People; but at a Period like the preſent, when the Repoſe of Europe is ſo confidently looked for from your Majeſty's unabated Firmneſs and Exertions in its Behalf; when by your own gracious Example, Immorality, and Impiety, with every evil and deſolating Principle, ſo lately at their Height, are now happily loſing their Influence on the Minds and Conduct of Men. At ſuch a Moment, the Circumſtance of your Majeſty's Life and Perſon being in any Manner endangered, muſt neceſſarily be of incalculable Conſequence to us all.

Your Majeſty's loyal and dutiful Univerſity of Cambridge, will ever make it their great and leading Object, as it is their Duty and their Intereſt, to inculcate into the Minds of thoſe committed to their Charge, an early and an habitual Senſe of Religion toward their God, and of Allegiance to their King, being well aware that without theſe, Science will be of little avail, and all Human Learning and Philoſophy, but empty Names.

We have only therefore ſtill to implore the Almighty Diſpoſer of Events, for the Continuation of a Life ſo dear and precious to us; that his Arm may ſtill be raiſed in its Defence, his Guidance ſtill direct it, and that a long Series of Years may yet paſs away, before it ceaſes to be a Comfort and Bleſſing to us all.

To which His Majeſty was pleaſed to return the following moſt gracious Anſwer:

I Thank you for this dutiful and loyal Addreſs, and for your affectionate Congratulations on My providential Deliverance from the Attempt which was lately made upon My Life.

This freſh Proof of your uniform Attachment to My Perſon and Government, and your laudable Exertions to inculcate into the Minds of the Youth committed to your Charge the Principles of Piety and Virtue, are highly acceptable to me, and ſecure to the Univerſity of Cambridge My conſtant Favour and Protection.

St. James's, May 28, 1800.

THE following Addreſſes having been tranſmitted to the Duke of Portland, His Majeſty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, have been by his Grace preſented to the King; which Addreſſes His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly:

To the KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty.

The humble Addreſs of the Bailiffs, Burgeſſes, and Inhabitants of the Borough of Horſham, in the County of Suſſex.

WE, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bailiffs, Burgeſſes, and Inhabitants of your Antient Borough of Horſham, beg Leave moſt humbly to approach your Majeſty in order to declare our greateſt Deteſtation at the late atrocious Attempt on your Majeſty's ſacred Life, and at the ſame Time to teſtify our moſt ſincere Congratulations to your Majeſty and your Kingdoms at your providential Eſcape.

Attached to your Majeſty by every Conſideration which can endear a Sovereign to his People, and by the trueſt Reſpect and Eſteem for your Majeſty's perſonal Virtues and Character, we cannot but expreſs our moſt unfeigned Acknowledgments for the merciful Interpoſition of Divine Providence manifeſted on this Occaſion in your Majeſty's ſignal Preſervation.

Borough of Horſham,
May 22, 1800.

[Tranſmitted by Mr. Medwin, Town Clerk.]

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE, the Miniſters and Elders of the Church of Scotland met in the General Aſſembly, beg Leave to approach your Majeſty's Throne with trembling yet joyful Hearts on your late providential Eſcape from the Hand of a traitorous Aſſaſſin.

That even Treaſon itſelf ſhould dare to attempt a Life ſo precious to your faithful Subjects, which has been endeared to them by the Exerciſe of every Virtue that can adorn the Character of a Patriot King, excites our utmoſt Horror and Indignation: while at the ſame Time the guardian Care of Divine Providence, in preſerving the Father of his Country to his grateful and affectionate People, raiſes in our Breaſts every Sentiment of Piety and Thankfulneſs to the God of Heaven.

When we convey to your Majeſty our warmeſt Congratulations on this awful Event, we cannot fail to obſerve how much the moſt imminent Dangers illuſtrate your Majeſty's Chriſtian Fortitude and Magnanimity to endear you ſtill more to your admiring Subjects, and to call forth our moſt fervent Prayers for the Prolongation of a Life ſo important at this Juncture, to them and to all the Nations of Europe, till your Majeſty ſhall have completed the Glories of your Reign in the Accompliſhment of all your exalted Plans for the Security of Great Britain, and the Peace of the World.

That Almighty God may ever keep your Majeſty under his Divine Protection; that He may bleſs you in your Perſon, Family, and Government; that He may bleſs your Royal Conſort the Queen, the Prince and Princeſs of Wales, and all the Royal Family; and that after a long and proſperous Reign, you may exchange an earthly for a celeſtial Crown through the Merits of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, are the earneſt Prayers of

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,
Your Majeſty's moſt dutiful, moſt faithful, and moſt obedient Subjects, the Miniſters and Elders met in this General Aſſembly of the Church of Scotland.

Whitehall, May 31, 1800.

THE following Addreſs having been tranſmitted to the Duke of Portland, His Majeſty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, has been preſented by his Grace to the King; which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

THE gracious Letter, with which your Majeſty has been pleaſed to honour this Meeting of the General Aſſembly of the Church of Scotland, was received with the utmoſt Reſpect and Gratitude.

The Approbation of the Spirit and Proceedings of former Aſſemblies, which your Majeſty's Benignity has condeſcended to expreſs with ſo much Paternal Affection, is peculiarly grateful to us as a Body, and operates on our Feelings as an Encouragement to follow, in Attachment to your Majeſty's Perſon, in Zeal for the Intereſts of Religion, and in Charity towards one another, the Example of thoſe enlightened and virtuous Men who have gone before us, and to deſerve, like them, that Sanction of Royal Authority which gives Solemnity and Effect to the Deciſions of our National Church.

Impreſſed with a juſt Senſe of the important Nature of thoſe Objects which claim our Conſideration, we beg Leave to aſſure your Majeſty, that the Propagation of Chriſtian Knowlege, the Maintenance of the Reformed Religion, the Diſcouragement of Vice and Immorality, and the Diffuſion of a Spirit of Charity and Benevolence, and of Submiſſion to the Laws, are Ends which ſhall continue to excite in our Minds the moſt ardent Zeal for their Attainment.

In the trying and eventful Period in which we live, we have felt that our Labours have become doubly important, both to private Happineſs, and the Public Safety; while we have alſo had the Mortification to diſcover that in the ſame Proportion they have been rendered more painful and difficult, by the Oppoſition of factious Men, Enemies of our Religion, and of all ſocial Order, and legal Government. We rejoice, that our honeſt and unremitted Exertions, in Union with thoſe of your Majeſty's other good and loyal Subjects, have hitherto been ſucceſsful in fruſtrating their pernicious Deſigns. And in the full Aſſurance of the continued Favour of Providence to a righteous Cauſe, we look forward with Confidence to the Termination of this great Conflict, when your Majeſty ſhall be enabled to tranſmit to Poſterity the unimpaired Enjoyment of all the Bleſſings, Civil and Religious, of our free and happy Conſtitution.

The Diſtreſs under which a large Portion of our Fellow-creatures has inevitably laboured during theſe Times of Scarcity with which it has pleaſed Almighty God to viſit us, has repeatedly claimed our ſerious Attention. And amidſt the Hardſhips to which our People muſt ſtill ſubmit, it gives us the moſt ſincere Satifaction to aſſure your Majeſty that in no Period known to us, have the good Senſe, the Patriotiſm, and the Charity of the Country been more conſpicuouſly diſplayed. The Care employed by the opulent and well-informed to point out the Nature and Extent of the Viſitation, and to provide the Means of alleviating its Preſſure, has been moſt meritorious. Of this the Poor themſelves are not inſenſible; and the Patience and Reſignation which they have very generally exerciſed, under Difficulties ſeldom known in our Land, give us Room to hope, that in the honeſt Purſuits of Induſtry, and in dutiful Submiſſion to lawful Authority, they will quietly wait for the Return of a more favourable Harveſt. Meanwhile we beg Leave to aſſure your Majeſty, that in the individual Diſcharge of the Duties of our Function, we ſhall not fail to inculcate, with additional Ardour the indiſpenſible Obligation of relieving, according to the Abilities of each, the Neceſſities of the Poor.

Your Majeſty's Donation of One thouſand Pounds for propagating Chriſtian Knowledge in the Highlands and Iſlands of Scotlands, was received with much Gratitude, as a freſh Inſtance of your paternal Solicitude for the beſt Intereſts of your People, as well as of the Confidence which you are pleaſed to repoſe in the Wiſdom and Fidelity of this Aſſembly: And it ſhall be our Endeavour, by a prudent and juſt Application of it, to promote the pious Purpoſes for which it is beſtowed.

The Appointment of the Earl of Leven and Melvill, to repreſent your Majeſty's ſacred Perſon and Royal Authority in this preſent Aſſembly, we regard as a pleaſing Teſtimony of your Affection to our Church. The Attachment of this Noble Lord to your Majeſty's Perſon, his Zeal for the Intereſts of the Church of Scotland, and the Virtues of his private Life, the eminent Qualifications which have recommended him to your Majeſty's repeated Choice, endear him to us in the Execution of the high and important Truſt committed to his Care. The flattering Manner in which he has communicated the gracious Aſſurance of the Senſe which your Majeſty is pleaſed to entertain of our ſteady and firm Zeal for your Service, has given us the trueſt Pleaſure: And we rely with entire Confidence in your Majeſty's Reſolution to preſerve and maintain the Church of Scotland, as by Law eſtabliſhed, in the full and free Enjoyment of all its Rights and Privileges.

That Almighty God may continue to preſerve your ſacred Life, to guide your Councils, and proſper your Adminiſtration; that he may bleſs our moſt Gracious Queen, the Prince and Princeſs of Wales, and all the Royal Family; and that after a long Life of eminent and exemplary Virtue upon Earth, you may, through the Merits of Jeſus Chriſt our Lord, receive in Heaven the Recompenſe of Reward, are the ſincere Prayers of,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,
Your Majeſty's moſt faithful, moſt obedient, and moſt loyal Subjects,
The Miniſters and Elders met in this General Aſſembly of the Church of Scotland.

Signed in our Name, in our Preſence, and at our Appointment, by George Baird, Moderator.
